The following are quotes from Mr. Pfluger's peers who nominated him for this honor:

- He is the epitome of teachers putting students first.
- He holds students accountable both in and out of the classroom.
- The dedication he has and the additional help he offers students daily inside the classroom as well as after school and during Saturday school, is second to none.
- He has mastered the elusive art of being firm but fair and having rules yet maintaining relationships with all students.
